

LEADING THROUGH PRESENTING

Leading through Presenting

The ability to present your ideas is a key leadership skill. However many leaders miss the opportunity to be the compelling leader they can be because they fail to present with Impact. Often presentations can be too long, lacking in structure and focus and uninspiring. The Leading through Presenting programme shows leaders how to craft and deliver Powerful Presentations that will Inspire teams, peers and stakeholders to take action.

LEARNING OUTCOMES

Participants will learn how to:

- Craft a powerful presentation with key takeaways for the audience
- Structure their presentation with a logical framework using proven methods to increase audience engagement
- Identify and weave in the language of influence to connect with their audience
- Manage public speaking nervousness
- Use their voice to project a powerful presence
- Use the stage and their non-verbal cues to convey authenticity and authority
- Respond to in 'the moment' questions from the audience
